Dear Admission Officer,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Anita (Yongtong) Zhou, with whom I have had the privilege of working closely in our company. I am in the Operations department, and over the course of our collaboration, I have witnessed Anita's exceptional skills, work ethic, and dedication to excellence.

Anita has demonstrated exceptional data processing skills, which have been invaluable to our team. She regularly takes the time to understand the underlying logic behind our department's work, and has used her data analysis expertise to uncover new market opportunities and potential directions for our marketing efforts. She also took the initiative to develop a custom-built website that simplifies the process of data analysis for our department. With a single click, we can now process and preview the necessary data. Such a design significantly improved the efficiency and accuracy in our workflows. Her technical acumen has made a profound impact on our ability to streamline operations and make data-driven decisions.

In addition to their technical skills, Anita has demonstrated outstanding work ethics. She consistently submits detailed weekly reports on time, in which she distills complex data into concise updates that serve as a communication bridge between departments. Her reports are structured to highlight key metrics, progress updates, and upcoming tasks, ensuring that stakeholders across management, operations, development, and advertising teams remain aligned on priorities and objectives. Her ability to connect and coordinate work across departments has significantly contributed to our team's overall success.

Moreover, Anita has a remarkable passion for learning and a rapid ability to adapt to new concepts. She frequently raises key questions during meetings that push our thinking. When we encountered a new data analysis tool, Anita spent extra hours to learn its intricacies and to understand the underlying algorithm and data structure, helping us integrate it into our workflows in a short time-frame.

In conclusion, Anita is a hardworking, intelligent, and dedicated individual who continually strives for excellence. Her analytical skills, strong work ethic, and ability to collaborate effectively across teams will make her an outstanding addition to any program. I wholeheartedly recommend Anita for admission to your university and believe she will contribute significantly to both the community and beyond.

Sincerely,
Yuan Yuan
